

Join the FOX Rising Gen Community

“Rising Gen events give us an opportunity to start building relationships now with others who are facing similar issues. Being involved in Rising Gen means we’re not doing any of this alone, and we will be able to support and celebrate each other for many years to come.”

— FOX Rising Gen Advisory Board Member

Family Office Exchange (FOX) has designed opportunities for next generation family members to help build a community where they can connect with people, like themselves, looking to engage in learning, share experiences, and develop skills as future leaders.

Members can join the FOX Rising Gen Network or attend live events scheduled in 2019. You will enjoy robust peer-to-peer discussions – sharing experiences, asking questions, offering ideas, and learning from others. FOX provides an exclusive and confidential space to connect with people who are facing similar opportunities and challenges.
